

CHANGE

The Change Range

Recruitment

A range of recruitment services to fit every need for candidates and clients alike, all fully accountable through our sixteen-step process and brought to you with flair and imagination. Just look at our Video Interviewing or Jobs for the Girls approach to see how we are different.

Recruitment with Passion, there's a Change

Training

How often do training programmes actually consider the customer, the real customer, not the person selling to them? At Change we look at things from another perspective, one that will increase sales because it looks deeper. Consider BuyWay, it does what it says; it lets customers buy the right way.

Training with imagination,
what a nice Change

Systems

It's a fact, businesses need systems to operate, but why do we buy them from people that don't work in our market, people that don't understand. At Change our systems came from an understanding of the motor trade, and more importantly, of the recruitment and training processes within it.

Systems that work, that makes a Change

The Change Directory

Change operates as an online business with the Change Directory sitting behind everything we do, it manages our clients, it runs our online recruitment programmes, it manages our training courses and it controls our websites and email servers. To work with Change, visit our website.

A real online solution, it will make a Change

The Change Partnership

Our Partners

Change is made up of like minded automotive professional consultants and businesses that all have the same aim, to make a Change to the industry in which we work. Based throughout the UK, we work as a team, each party bringing their own unique skills and talents to the partnership, working off of each other to provide a cohesive recruitment and training force.

If you would like to contact one of our Partners simply visit our website. If however you would like to join them in selling and delivering our products and services, or even to add your own product or service to this portfolio, for our team to sell along side you, we would love to hear from you. Further, if you have an existing business and are looking for a new route to market, our partnership programme may be the alternative that you are looking for. Again, come to our website to find out more.

You can do better, its time for a Change

Community

and

Change

Change in the Community

We work, we earn money, we live, we relax, but what do we give back for the lifestyles that we enjoy? At Change we think outside the box. If you are going to market your business to 6,000 motor dealers, why not ask for a little charity donation while you are visiting them, and if you are going to get fit, why not do it through a fund raising event. Go to our website and look at the Dealer 6000 programme or the 2006 marathon double bubble to see what we mean.

Change making a real Change
